Grand Knight Reflection

“As You Wish”

I recently watched a movie called “The Princess Bride.” I had not seen it in awhile and my memory of it was not clear as I always seemed to come into the movie as others are watching it. So I did not get the full picture of what it was about, so to speak. But this time I watched it from the beginning to the end.

The one thing that struck me was that the romantic lead Westley was a lot like St. Joseph. He worked hard but had little to say except “As you wish” whenever his love interest wanted him to do something. No comments or questions, he did as she wished.

Might I suggest that for Mother’s Day this year, we take the same attitude with our brides, mothers, grandmothers, etc. in our lives. “As you wish” will be our motto.

And might I also suggest that we try to continue like St. Joseph by not speaking too much but doing whatever we are asked to do for the women in our lives. Perhaps we can also pray and fast monthly for these same women. I have to imagine that St. Joseph put Mary (and Jesus) first so why can’t we do the same?
